Encomia and Street Resource Group Form Partnership

-Enhances eMortgage capabilities for warehouse lenders -

HOUSTON, March 17, 2007 – Encomia, a provider of end-to-end eMortgage technology, announced today a partnership with Atlanta-based Street Resource Group, Inc. (SRG), the premier provider of technology, consulting, and information solutions exclusively for mortgage warehouse lenders, that will allow streamlined funding and storage of electronic loans by warehouse lenders.

The partnership will make Encomia's eVault module available to warehouse lenders currently using SRG's Warehouse Loan System. The secure electronic vault enables users to become immediate eCustodians and receive eNotes in any format. Reciprocally, SRG will provide its configurable Microsoft SQL2000 .NET platform to Encomia's existing warehouse lending customers to create an automated workflow environment for secure, online, real-time warehouse lending.

"Our goal is to make beneficial eMortgage solutions available to lenders of all sizes, allowing them to gain a competitive edge in an evolving electronic environment," said Andrew Krieger, COO of Encomia. "By partnering with Street Resource Group, a company that shares our vision, we are able to meet that goal by helping our customers benefit from increased efficiency, security and data integrity in the funding process. The Warehouse Loan System provides our customers with the tools needed to electronically manage their loan pipelines and business processes."

"Aligning our product offering with Encomia combines our expertise in warehouse operations, information systems management, operational control and risk management with a respected authority in the eMortgage industry," said Stanley Street, president and founder of Street Resource Group. "Using the eVault, our customers can reduce cost and mitigate risk as they transition toward an eMortgage-capable environment."
